

Hygiene Policy Statement

The Company's policy is to manufacture and supply flours of highest possible hygienic standard.

We consider it most important that our products are always manufactured to meet the requirements of good practice and legislative hygiene requirements.

To do this effectively we shall employ a HACCP Plan (based on the Codex Alimentarius principles), a Hygiene Schedule (working to the Millers Code of Hygiene Practice) and all personnel will be issued with a set of Hygiene Rules on employment and whenever they are amended.

All glass, in the production and storage areas must be continuously monitored and alternatives will be installed wherever practical. All other glass where there is a risk of contamination will be protected by a safety film. A glass register for all areas will be kept.

The company will seek continually to improve products, procedures and processes and is dedicated to provide the resources of manpower and equipment to reach our goals. All our employee's will receive ongoing training to enable them to meet the above requirements.

We expect all our employee's to respect the policy and to give their commitment and support to help us in our efforts to implement it.

For and on behalf of the Directors of W & H Marriage & Sons Ltd.

Quality Testing Policy Statement

The Company's policy is to manufacture and supply flours of the highest quality and to the entire satisfaction of our customers, as detailed in the Company's Quality Policy Statement.

All our products should at all times be fit for their purpose and be within agreed specifications and characteristics. To ensure that product quality is maintained at all times the Company shall provide Laboratory facilities and procedures which operate to a recognised industry standard for both raw material and finished product analysis. Currently the laboratory operates to the CLAS Standard which is based on ISO 17025:2017 and the UK Flour Millers (Formally nabim) Wheat Intake Scheme accreditation. Where no in-house facilities exist (for example for microbiological analysis) the Company shall employ the services of third party contractors who have suitable accreditation to their profession. W & H Marriage and Sons Ltd is committed to both CLAS and the UK Flour Millers (Formally nabim) Standard for Intake Laboratories, and will ensure that resource allocation is sufficient for compliance.

W&H Marriage and Sons Ltd is committed to impartiality.

We will seek continually to improve products, procedures and processes, and are dedicated to providing resources of manpower and equipment to reach our goals. All our employees shall receive ongoing training to enable them to meet the above requirements.

We expect all our employees to respect the policy and give their commitment and support to help us in our efforts to implement it.
