Specialist manufacturing and support services for automated production

Denny Bros Engineering is a manufacturer of automated assembly machinery, and also provides precision engineering, automation, and process systems integration services.

We have a proud reputation for providing reliable, quality engineering work. Everything we do is produced to the highest quality standards using sector-leading specialist knowledge. This commitment to creating reliable solutions helps build long-lasting customer relationships.

In-house expertise

We have assembled the finest team of skilled machinists, fitters, and mechanical, electrical and software engineers.

We manufacture complex machinery, premium quality precision engineered parts, and intelligent control systems.

With headquarters in Bury St Edmunds, Suffolk, we supply customers throughout the UK, and worldwide.

Your quality and environmental choice

We are ISO 9001 & ISO 14001 certified, providing assured quality and reflecting our commitment to protecting our community and surroundings, and making the day to day running of our business more efficient and sustainable.

Automation machinery manufacture

Tailored to each application, designed and built to be integrated with existing systems, minimising downtime, improving productivity and ensuring compliance.

System automation and integration

Specialist background in the production of automated production lines means we can help incorporate your ideas and technology into bespoke systems.

Electrical control panels

Build and supply of new panels. Wiring, fault finding and PLC programming. We can also help with fault diagnosis and upgrades.

Design support and consultancy

Keeping your production running smoothly and efficiently - troubleshooting, process analysis, fault finding, upgrades and more.

Tool room services

Including press tools, jigs, fixtures, mould tool and die manufacture, repairs, upgrade and modifications.

Precision component manufacture

Working with manufacturers, operators and service technicians of process and production machinery, to produce parts and assemblies accurately and quickly.
